Here Comes Rudolph in 'Eagle'

RUDOLPH VALENTINO and VILMA BANKY in "THE EAGLE"

Rudy Valentino In 'The Eagle' At the Torrance

Film Story of Amundsen's Trip to Pole Also Is Booked

"The Eagle," in which Rudolph Valentino will be seen at the Torrance Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, will present the star for the first time in the role of a Russian. In view of the popularity which he has given to romantic Latin types, it will be interesting to see if he will raise the Slav to the same public esteem.

"The Eagle" is said to be a distinct departure for Valentino in other respects also. The story has more action and also more comedy than any other in which he has appeared. The star will be seen first as a handsome Cossack lieutenant, then later as a swift, mysterious, adventurous bandit whose exploits thrill all Russia. (It is from this that the character derives the name of the Eagle.) For a while he masquerades as a French tutor in order to enter the home of his mortal enemy.

On Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, also—a trip to the North Pole! It is the authentic pictorial log of the Amundsen-Ellsworth expedition, which set out into the frozen unknown in two giant airplanes, although the pole was not actually reached, the two planes were forced down within little more than one hundred miles of that goal, the mythical axis-end that has lured adventurous men for centuries. Most anyone should be satisfied to view the region that close to the pole—and most anyone will be thrilled by the hardships and heroism of the brave men—Amundsen; Ellsworth, the American; Mechanic Feucht, the German; and three Norwegians—who flitted with death in a country where even their graves would be forever obliterated by the shifting sheets of white. Pathe is releasing this epic of the air, a story awe-inspiring and authentic in every detail.

For the first time in his many years before the motion picture camera and on the stage, Conway Tearle, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer actor, is appearing in a crook role. A gentleman crook who, though he wears his clothes well, is nevertheless quite crooked.

Tearle has the leading male role in "The Mystic," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production directed by Tod Browning, and to be shown at the Torrance Theatre next Wednesday, and he plays opposite the fiery Aileen Pringle.

"The public reception of men in such a role will be interesting for me to study," said Tearle. "Heretofore I have been cast in sympathetic roles. Now I find myself in the role of a crook, swindling the unwary with fake clairvoyancy."

Roy Farquhar and niece, Juanita Henley, were Redondo Beach visitors Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schnelldorfer and son, of Oak street, and Miss Lena Rein of San Pedro enjoyed a motor trip through Topanga Canyon Sunday, returning by way of Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. Eber B. Smith and daughter were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Smith of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Snyder of Redondo boulevard enjoyed a visit to the battlefields in San Pedro harbor Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steigh and son Leslie, of Narbonne avenue, attended the Cabrillo Theatre in San Pedro Sunday evening.

C. H. Meers and Elias Meers, of Walnut street, are in San Diego on business this week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Tinsman have moved from the Weston ranch to Venice.

Joe Sweeney of Trinidad, Colo., is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Meers of Walnut street.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and three big days, showing Mary Pickford in "Little Annie Rooney," a picture you can't afford to miss.

SOCIETY NEWS

ROTARY ANNS ENJOY SPLENDID PROGRAM

Music was cleverly featured by the program committee at Tuesday's luncheon of the Rotary Ann Club. Radio music was interspersed with stunts and songs. Little Laura May Hyde played three piano solos. Mrs. George Shidler, Mrs. William Booth and Mrs. W. Harold Kingsley reported upon the Code of Ethics of the club, each reading a copy she had compiled. A composite code will be presented at the next meeting.

Mrs. Jack Hanson, Mrs. Ray McFarland, Mrs. Fay Parks, Mrs. Richard Flaherty, Mrs. Rufus Page and Mrs. Wallace Post will plan a party for the Rotary Club members before the February luncheon. Mrs. John McMillan will entertain the Rotary Anns at her home Thursday afternoon, Jan. 21, at 2 o'clock. Members are requested to call her if they plan to be present.

Mrs. Ben Lingenfeller, Mrs. Foley and Mrs. Robert Hoag will have charge of the patriotic luncheon on February 9. Guests for the day were Mary Irene Rogers, Edna Acree, Lulu Boylston, Mayme Ebert, Viola McGuire, and Ruth Patton.

After the luncheon, guests and members were entertained at bridge

American Home To Be Feature Of Federation

Presidents' Council of Women's Club at Glendale on Jan. 18

The presidents' council of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held at the Tuesday Afternoon Clubhouse, Glendale, Jan. 18, will center around the American home. The mother's viewpoint will be emphasized by a playlet, "Manners and Modes May Change, But Mothers, Never," to be presented under the supervision of Mrs. John F. Mead, chairman of American home. The father's viewpoint will be discussed by Dr. Willis Martin in "What a Father Thinks About the American Home."

Another big feature of the day will be the Junior Auxiliaries, whose presidents and representatives will be there in a body. A symposium conducted by Mrs. P. H. Johnson, chairman of Junior Memberships, will be given; Glendale Junior Auxiliary will assist in the luncheon service, other Juniors appearing on the program in song and talks. Another phase of home interests will be introduced through the economics department, Mrs. Frank J. Spring chairman; "The Real Meaning of Home Economics" to be presented by Mrs. W. W. Goodrich, state chairman.

The morning session will be devoted to reports from the department chairmen; thirty-minute club institute; "Program Highlights" by Mrs. Harry Louis Stroh, chairman of information and reciprocity. Several surprise features will be distributed through the day's program, as a little departure from the established form. Only two reservations for each club are possible, but nearby attractive places are available. Reservations may be made of Mrs. Howard U. Sherman, 614 Monterey Park. Permanent luncheon reservations will be held only until 11 a. m.

Junior Auxiliary Will Be Formed By Women's Club

A Junior Auxiliary to the Women's Club was formed on Monday afternoon, Jan. 11, with 26 members. Miss Daisy Koehler was elected president, Miss Ethelene Woodington vice president, Garnet Cook secretary, and Lucile Morrison treasurer.

Girls from 14 to 22 are eligible, and those joining before Feb. 8, when the charter closes, will be admitted without the payment of an admittance fee.

After the charter closes the admittance fee will be $1. The dues are 50 cents a year, payable semi-annually. A great deal of enthusiasm was displayed at the meeting, and it seems as if the Auxiliary would be a success.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Waugh and family have moved from Fullerton into their own home on Penneylania avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moss and family, of Los Angeles, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ganster of Redondo boulevard. Guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. P. Donegan of Narbonne avenue were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nay and family, of South Los Angeles, and Mrs. Rudolph Geist and daughters, of Redondo boulevard.

Dance, Jan. 16, Odd Fellows hall, Lomita. Pickell's orchestra.—Adv. at the home of Mrs. Wilfred Peal. Hostesses at luncheon were Mrs. Richard Flaherty, Mrs. Claude Mackenzie, and Mrs. Eugene DeBra.

Introducing HOWARD'S Successors to the House of Parr Values

TO THE OLD CUSTOMERS AND FRIENDS of Mr. George D. Parr: I wish to assure you that it shall be the policy of the new proprietor to merit your continued patronage by rigidly adhering to the high business standards of Mr. Parr, which have won the confidence of so large a circle of customers since the establishment of the House of Parr Values six years ago.

My hobby is Watches, and I am already making arrangements for increasing the stock of watches to include several nationally advertised makes. I am the second generation of watchmakers and have always taken particular pride in fine watches and watch repairing.

In pricing my goods I make no allowance for bad accounts. I pay cash for the goods I buy and shall expect cash for the merchandise I sell. In this way, my customers are given the benefit of the savings effected by entirely eliminating credit losses.

I am enthusiastic about Torrance and this district and am anxious to do my share in promoting its prosperity and welfare both as a merchant and as a citizen.

Sincerely,
HOWARD S. SMITH,
Proprietor.
